

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Birding

VOL. 39 • NO. 2 • MARCH/APRIL 2007

In this issue: The Ivory-billed Woodpecker, perhaps more than any other bird species, captures the imagination of the North American birder. Our attitudes toward the species are diverse and sometimes conflicting, highly personal and often quite intense. Cover drawing: Graphite on Bristol board by © Darryl Wheye, Science Art—Birds. More information on this painting available online <aba.org/pubs/birding/archives/vol39no2p17w1.pdf>.

Correspondence

- 10 Your Letters
 - Limits of ID
 - Solitary Eagle Update
 - The Big Walk
 - Missing Persons
 - BNA—Well, Almost...

- 18 Editorial
A Birding Interview:
Paul Ehrlich, Birds,
and the Environment

- 22 Flight Path
The ABA's Institute for Field Ornithology
WAYNE R. PETERSEN

- 28 Traditions
Tanner Trails
PAUL J. BAICICH

- 30 Sightings
Early January to
Early February 2007
RICK WRIGHT

- 32 News and Notes
PAUL HESS
 - Two Ivory-bill Species?
 - Tracking  Sooty Shearwaters
 - Ruddy Duck Hybrids
 - Evolution in Darwin's Finches

Feature Articles

- 36 The Great Ivory-billed Woodpecker Debate
FLOYD E. HAYES AND
WILLIAM K. HAYES

- 42 Memories from the Singer Tract
FRANK J. SEVERSON

- 48 Taking It Personal: Where the Ivory-bill Survives
RICK WRIGHT

- 54 Birding with Technology Used in the Search for the Ivory-billed Woodpecker
DAVID LUNEAU

- 60 Loss of Extinct Species from Popular Field Guides
WILL R. TURNER

- 64 Conservation Genetics and the Ivory-billed Woodpecker
JULIE L. WESTON GLENN

Departments

- 68 Dimensions
My Ivory-bill Encounter
WILLIAM SWEENEY

- 72 January/February Photo Quiz Answers
Too Easy?
TED FLOYD

- 78 Book Reviews
 - Recordings of Owls
DAVID E. QUADY, reviewer
 - Oregon and Washington
JOEL GEIER, reviewer

- 96 New Photo Quiz

Ivory-billed Woodpeckers. See article, p. 68. Photograph by James T. Tanner, courtesy of © Nancy Tanner.

